SUZANNE KASLER INTRODUCES THE HAUT MARAIS COLLECTION

Hickory, NC—June 3, 2021—Hickory Chair announces a celebratory new collection by the talented Suzanne Kasler at the International Home Furnishings Market in High Point, NC. The signature new Haut Marais Collection was inspired by and is a true reflection of her passion for architecture, art, fashion and travel. Named for the historic Haut Marais district of Paris, an area of the city known for its outstanding buildings of historic and architectural importance that bustles with art galleries, antiques, trendy shopping and restaurants.

Suzanne’s designs always reference the past but move towards the future with an edited and discerning eye on the present. Known for mixing the high and the low, traditional and contemporary, the new and the old – creating signature interiors and products that convey a sophisticated simplicity. Her designs inspire everyone to live a more beautiful, stylish and authentic life.

Known for her love of all things French, the new Haut Marais Collection beautifully complements her existing collections. To expand and delight connoisseurs of her collection, she has designed intricately detailed, hand-crafted wood products made in the company’s Hickory workroom that were designed with flexibility to allow designers and their clients the ability to personalize pieces for their homes. Crisply-tailored modern upholstered pieces are contrasted by the occasional wood pieces. Her ability to carefully curate a wonderful palette of textures and materials such as stone, mirror, metal, rush and beautiful natural woods is a gift. Throughout the sophisticated collection, architectural elements are highlighted with modern details and clean lines for an easy, fresh aesthetic.

Since 2008, Suzanne has collaborated with the artisans and craftsmen in our Hickory workroom to create distinctive new upholstered and wood products that have delighted the design community. It is our honor and pleasure to once more provide our loyal clientele a fresh new Suzanne Kasler collection that will provide distinctive new pieces to allow personalized solutions for their installations. “All of us at Hickory Chair cherish Suzanne’s dedication and partnership with our company’s craftsmen to create elegant, timeless upholstery and wood products that have delighted designers and their clients worldwide for the past 13 years. The new Haut Marais collection blends beautifully with her existing collections while expanding the breadth of style and fashion into a sophisticated yet more casual aesthetic,” states Kevin Bowman, president.”
